As a Human Book, you agree to participate in Human Library programs based on availability. You agree to:

- Be reliable and punctual
- Be honest and open during your time as a Human Book
- Listen carefully and respectfully to others
- Share your story with Readers in accordance with the Library's Rules of Conduct and Human Library Guidelines
- Promptly discuss any concerns with library staff. You have the right to end the discussion / loan if you feel insulted or accused
- Respect the confidential nature of any conversations you have. You agree not to disclose the names of readers if you quote from your discussion(s) with them.

The Library agrees to:

- Value the work of Human Books
- Provide orientation and instruction for Human Books
- Provide ongoing information, feedback and support for Human Books
- Inform Human Books as soon as possible of any scheduling changes
- Ensure accessible resources and interpreters are available the day of the event if needed and in accordance with [your library's name] Library Accessibility Policy.

Please note that the library is not responsible for any conversations continued outside of the event. If requested, the library may be able to provide a safe space for continued dialogue such as a wiki, blog or similar tool.
